The Team

The Core Partners Consulting Team have an enviable track record in delivering first class results in complex business environments.

This is reinforced by robust operating methods, methodologies and tools which have helped many leading organisations drive value, deliver savings and develop their people.

The Core Partners Development Team excels in helping clients improve their business performance through the development of processes, people, teams and entire organisations.

Our experience from senior operational management roles means we can work faster and deliver results quickly. Our consultants have extensive experience in working with clients at all levels to develop their staff, teams and processes to deliver sustainable improvements.

We forge strong relationships with our client's senior staff from the outset – empowering them with the knowledge and confidence to ensure all aspects of change are sustainable and giving them the ability to generate further improvement.

Client Needs

We provide a range of client-tailored services to help businesses improve and develop in the most cost effective way.

Typically areas where we can make a significant and rapid impact are:

- Generating cash and increasing EBITDA
- Identifying and implementing cost savings and reducing risk
- Improving operational performance and quality
- Improving new product time to market
- Ensuring your people
 - have the right skills, knowledge and behaviours
 - face their objectives, confident that they are fully equipped to reach them
- Ensuring your organisation is best matched to take advantage of opportunities whether strategic or tactical.

Our Expertise

We have two practices, Consulting and Development. Teams in both practice areas engage with clients as part of ongoing operational change or during significant organisational developments including:

- Acquisition
- Integration
- Turnaround
- Operations Improvement.

Consulting

Core Partners Consulting focus on delivering operational improvement in:

- Supply Chain Management and Sourcing
- Engineering and New Production Introduction
- Programme and Project Management
- Manufacturing and Operations.

Development

Core Partners Development focus on the assessment, training and development of people as individuals, groups or teams.

By working closely with clients and using our experience, combined with robust and proven tools and methodologies, we are able to design and implement sustainable solutions that address their needs.

Our Clients

Core Partners have worked with clients with turnovers ranging from £20m to over £1bn to improve their performance.

Sectors range from aerospace and defence, high technology engineering, through capital intensive projects and medical equipment, to media and publishing.

We help clients and their teams to identify opportunities, develop strategies and implement practical solutions. We also develop the client's team's capabilities to capabilities to make every improvement sustainable.
